

Introduction

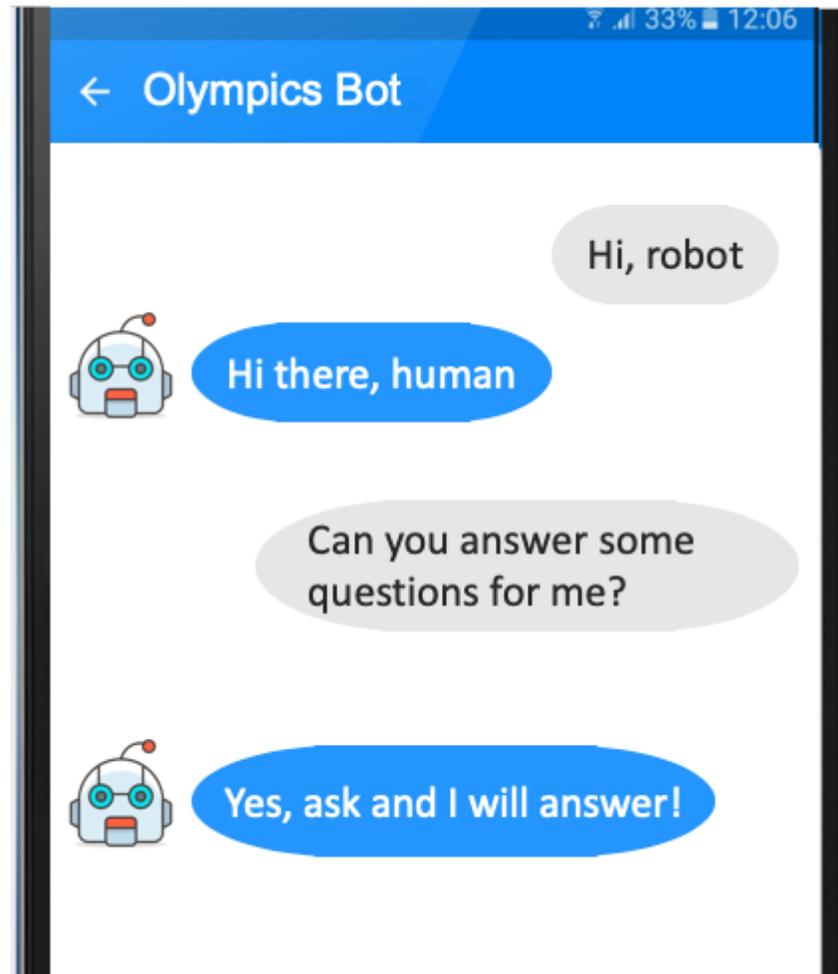

Imagine you are using a computer chat system that allows you to write or speak questions and view the responses, on a mobile device or on the web. In this task, we would like for you to assume you have written the questions, which are about the Summer Olympics.

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. View the question and think about how you would like to see the answer displayed.
2. Look at two different views of the answer.
3. Select which view you would prefer to see.
4. Describe the reason for your preference in the text box and in a multiple choice question.

5. Answer an additional question.

Assume that the answer is always correct; we are interested in what your opinion is of the details in the way the answer is presented.

As you can see, the Bot will answers questions.

You will first see the question on the screen alone. Think about what the answer might be.

Then VIEW the bot's answers and follow the instructions.
